Profile

We are all facing very similar challenges – both in our personal and professional lives. Let's get together and talk about them. We're sure we'll find some solace from each other and generate some ideas about what each one of us is doing to cope. And you don't even have to shave or put on any makeup for this ☒. Here are some of the discussion points:

- What challenges are you facing related to your employees? How are you dealing with them?
- What are the major supplier issues you've faced? What was the resolution?
- Is this presenting you with some Opportunities?
- Are you having to revisit and change your Category Management strategies?
- Has this impacted your Profile within the company?
- What would you have done different a month ago?
- Would you consider making any permanent changes (personal or business) as a result of what you have learned from this event?

PERT is a collaboration between The Mpower Group & OMNIA Partners.
